

Abstract

Proposed is a device for accessing a vehicle control system via a wireless link, a gateway control unit which is connected to at least one vehicle bus and to a wireless network being provided, and the gateway control unit being freely configurable via the wireless link.

5

(Figure 1)